TORONTO, June 6, 2024 - SRx Health Solutions Inc., a leading provider of innovative healthcare solutions, is proud to announce its strategic partnership with Sajic™ Skin Science, marking a significant milestone in advancing personalized patient care. Through this collaboration, SRx is now offering its patients and partners non-exclusive access to the groundbreaking Renutriate™ skincare product from Sajic Skin Science, revolutionizing the approach to compounded treatments.

The Renutriate skincare line by Sajic Skin Science represents a cutting-edge formulation that serves as a revolutionary base for compounded treatments. Designed to repair DNA and address a spectrum of skin concerns ranging from psoriasis and acne to dermatitis, Sajic's flagship product is a high-quality, nourishing cream packed with GMA7® and cutting-edge ingredients for multi-targeted treatment that is both scientifically crafted and clinically proven.

In an era where personalized healthcare is paramount, compounded medications stand out as a tailored approach to addressing individual needs with precision and efficacy, while minimizing adverse effects. The collaboration between SRx and Sajic Skin Science reflects a shared commitment to meeting the evolving demands of patients and healthcare providers in Canada's dynamic healthcare landscape.

"With Canada's aging population and the increasing prevalence of chronic illnesses, there is a growing demand for compounded treatments that offer personalized solutions," remarked SRx. "Our partnership with Sajic Skin Science underscores our dedication to providing our patients and partners with access to the latest advancements in healthcare.

Healthcare providers and patients alike are encouraged to explore the transformative potential of compounded skincare products. SRx invites individuals to connect with SRx Pharmacy teams for personalized guidance on compounded products, while

About SRX Health

SRx operates as a Canadian healthcare service provider specializing in the Specialty Pharmacy segment of the pharmaceutical industry. Distinguishing itself as a National Specialty Pharmacy provider, SRx concentrates on overseeing a patient's healthcare journey, spanning from acute pharmaceutical needs to chronic and rare disease management. This unique focus positions SRx to deliver a more holistic and integrated solution, catering to the requirements of both patients and key healthcare stakeholders. Our all-encompassing end-to-end offerings include wholesale/distribution facilities, patient support programs, infusion clinics, retail pharmacies, co-designed clinical programs, clinical trials, and diagnostic services.

Our strategic growth plan is forward-thinking and revolves around fostering increased collaboration with pharmaceutical manufacturers and prescribers. With a specific emphasis on the expanding market of chronic and rare diseases, we target specialty drugs associated with closed and limited distribution networks. The objective is to broaden their distribution and improve accessibility. Our overarching goal is to elevate our current presence from 34 to 100 specialty pharmacy locations across mid-sized population centers throughout Canada, thereby enhancing the scope of healthcare services and establishing new industry benchmarks. In the subsequent phase of SRx's evolution, we aim to extend our reach beyond the borders of Canada. Leveraging our comprehensive approach, we aspire to simplify healthcare on a global scale.
